Palm Beach County Celebrates Local Election Heroes Who Help Make Democracy Possible

Supervisor Wendy Sartory Link recognizes the dedicated Election Workers who serve voters and help ensure safe, secure, and accessible elections.

PALM BEACH COUNTY, FL – In recognition of National Election Hero Day, Palm Beach County Supervisor of Elections Wendy Sartory Link celebrated the dedicated Election Workers and election professionals whose service helps make democracy possible.

Election Hero Day is a nonpartisan celebration honoring the individuals who work tirelessly to administer elections, protect the integrity of the voting process, and ensure every eligible voter has the opportunity to make their voice heard.

In Palm Beach County, these everyday heroes are friends, neighbors, and community members who step up to serve. From preparing polling locations to assisting voters, their work is essential to conducting successful elections.

"Our Election Heroes are the heart of our elections," said Supervisor Wendy Sartory Link. "They are the friendly faces welcoming voters and the dedicated individuals working behind the scenes to ensure every election is safe, secure, accurate, and accessible. Their professionalism, commitment, and willingness to serve our community deserve our recognition and gratitude."

Whether serving for the first time or returning after years of service, Election Workers play a critical role in providing voters with a positive voting experience and maintaining public confidence in the electoral process.

"Democracy works because people step up to serve, and our Election Heroes do just that," added Supervisor Link. "As we prepare for another important election, I want each of our Election Workers to know how much their dedication means to our Elections Office and the voters of Palm Beach County. We are incredibly proud of our team, and we thank them for everything they do."

The Palm Beach County Supervisor of Elections Office encourages residents to join in recognizing and thanking the Election Heroes who serve their communities.
